Some flower, huh?
Oh well, that's life. I really didn't know you to well, except by name and face.
But then there was the night at Pizza Inn. I can tell that you're a real sweet person with a great personality.

Stay the way you are, and you'll go far. Hey that rhymes! Good luck in all your do's and come see me sometime this summer since your live so close. I hope to see you in Hi-Y next year. It should be lots of fun. Well, I'll say good-bye for now.
Lots of love,

SUE (SUGAR BEAR)

It all started in the 9th grade and if I ever forget it it will sure be a screw. But one thing I'm proud of is that I never have said that I regreted it. It's because of the respect I have for you and also all the little things

Administration

In the river of time, the flowing currents are the changes that make a new environment. There is never a ripple that can be the same forever. Change alone remains eternal.

This year Mr. Tom Byrne assumed a new title with challenging responsibilities when he became principal of Wenatchee High School. Replacing him as assistant principal was Mr. Max Taylor, former counselor. The new counselor was Mr. Ben Graf.

Experimentation with unassigned study periods for seniors, as Mr. Byrne explained, was designed "to help the individual assume more responsibility and to encourage him to use his time for study." Juniors repeated last year's unsupervised honor study halls. Sophomores were assigned to regular supervised study halls.

Several new classes were added to the curriculum. These included German, food handler class, clothing technician class, power mechanics, office procedures, electricity and electronics, distributive education for juniors, and second year courses in shorthand and bookkeeping.

"Most of this planning had already been previously arranged last year," said Mr. Byrne.

It is true that the river of time flows on forever. This body of water does, however, follow the mold of the past as it grooves the pattern of the future.

"Oh no-o-o, I've lost my schedule!"

"My locker won't open!"

"Don't kick it fool. The wall might fall over."

"My feet hurt —"

"Oh help — I can't find Main!"

What can this be? A general meeting of the Mickey Mouse Club? Chatty Cathy and Little Miss Echo?

Wait! Free swim at the Public Pool?? No? Oh yes, the sophomore orientation at Wenatchee High School!

This orientation was held August 28 and 29. The purpose was to introduce the sophomores to the school. Many guest speakers were present to speak, including the principal, counselors, and others who explained the school policies, organizations, and activities. Sophomores had a chance to get their schedules and to buy books. They also took the DAT tests.

Mrs. Marilyn Hauck, English.

Mrs. Maxine Hornfelt, English.

Mr. Lyle Schwarz, the English department director, starts the department meeting with a good joke.

English

The English department at Wenatchee High School consists of teachers who expanded our knowledge beyond what we learned from our text books.

Sophomore English classes had one semester of grammar and one semester of literature. In their literature classes they read Julius Caesar and books such as To Kill A Mockingbird, by Harper Lee. Juniors had one semester of literature and the other semester they had a choice of drama, speech, or debate. Senior English was not a required class for graduation, but most seniors took this class because it helped to meet college requirements. It included a study of English literature.

Among other English classes offered to most juniors and seniors were Apple Leaf, journalism, advanced drama, world literature, and creative writing.

Miss Jane Lovejoy (center), the school librarian, shows two students how to use the overhead projector, while Mrs. Betty Perkins (left), the secretary for Miss Lovejoy, looks on.

Wenatchee High School's music department brought harmony and spirit to our fast-moving lives. The department included the bands, directed by Mr. Jay McCament, the orchestra, directed by Miss Darlene Pederson, and the choral groups, under the direction of Mr. Ron Jones.

The math department had a two-track program, including honors and regular math offerings, as well as vocational math studies. The honors math program was for the student planning to pursue technical studies in college. Regular math classes were for the college-bound students ordinarily not planning to pursue mathematically-oriented careers.

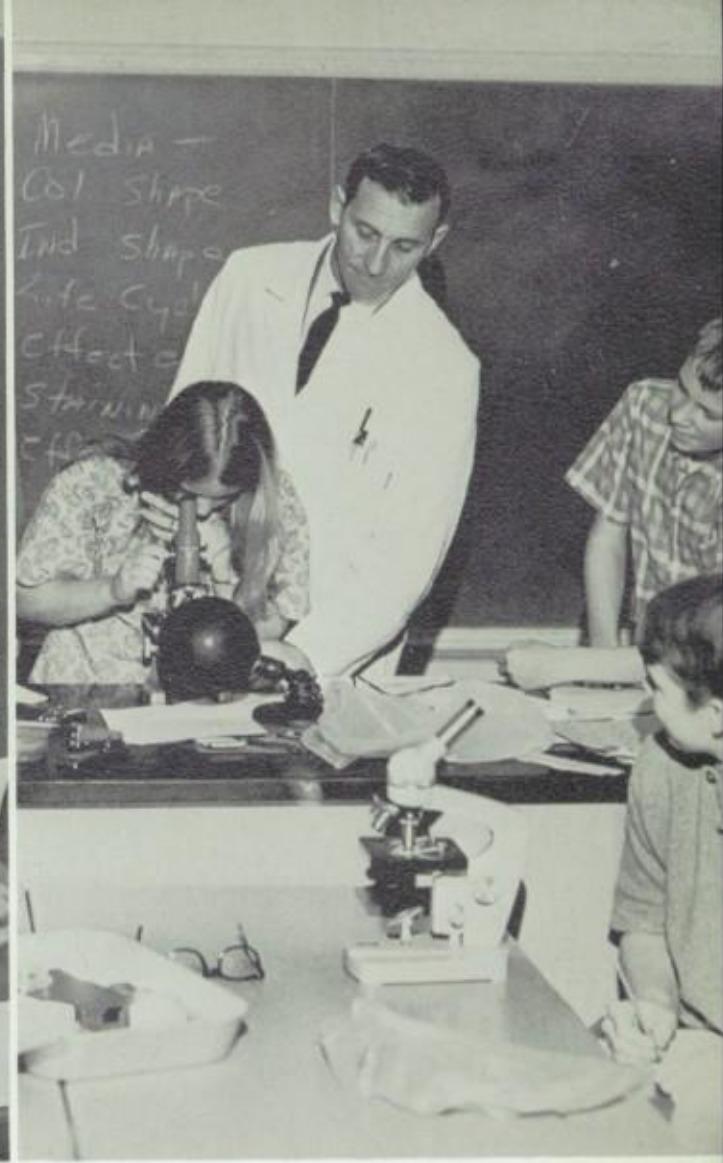

Mr. Bill Asplund, Chemistry.

Mrs. Ethel Case, Biology.

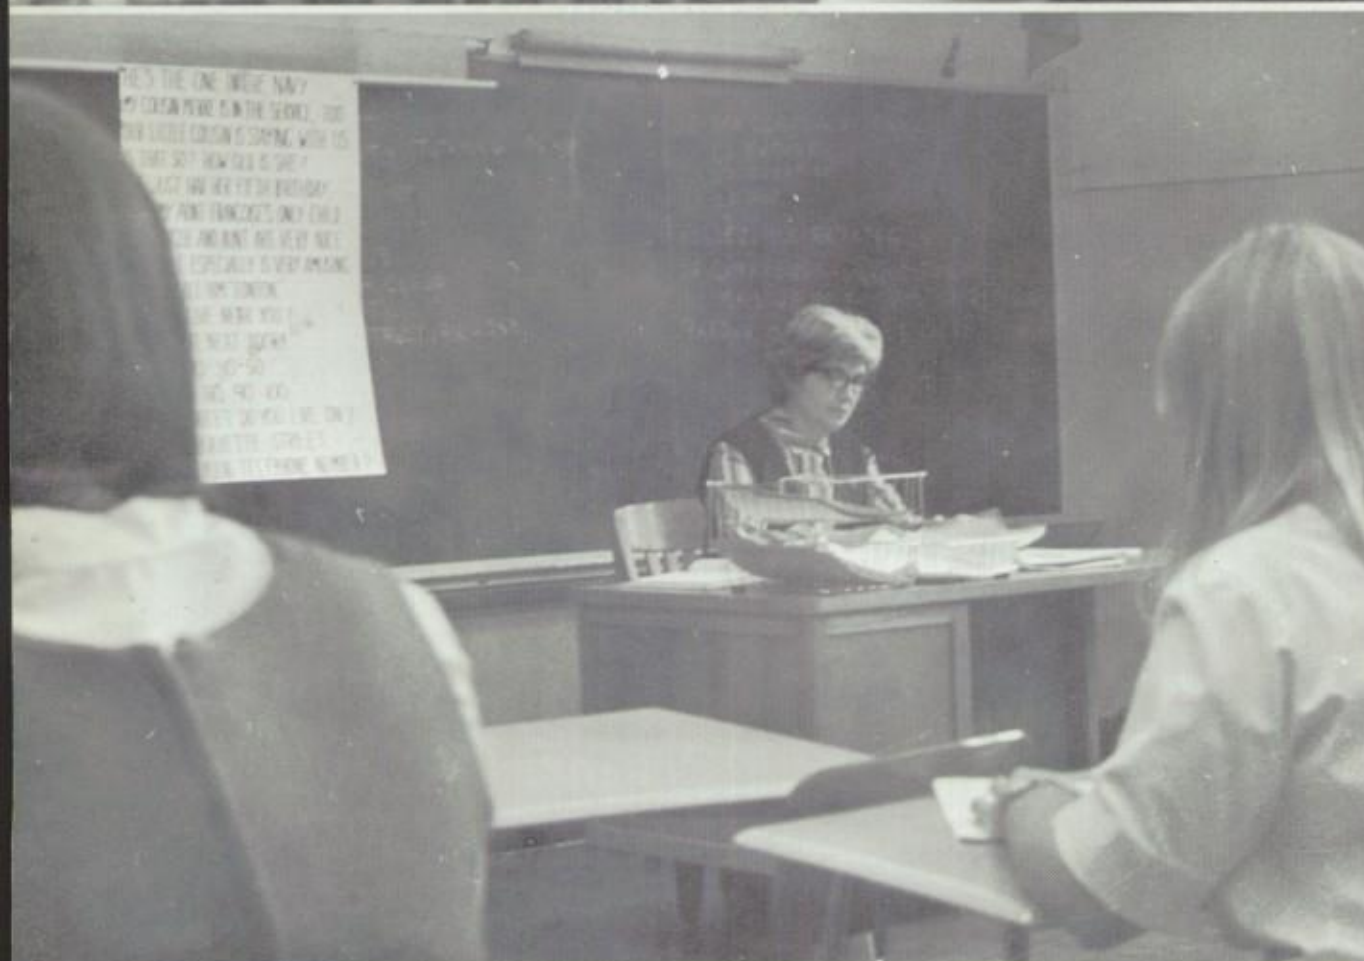

Mr. Jack Brantner, Biology.

Two kinds of students were accommodated by the WHS art department. One was the serious art student who might consider art as a career; the other was the student seeking enjoyment from art skills. This year nine units of art were offered. The art department would like to increase its program in the future to include commercial art, graphics, and possibly photography.

The science department, which provided classes in biology, chemistry, and physics, worked toward two main goals. The first of these was to become acquainted with the scientific facts upon which the major concepts and theories of science are based. The second goal was to help the student appreciate the methods of science and to be able to participate intelligently in a scientifically oriented world.

The mastery of another language offers the student a unique opportunity for learning about the cultures of other people. German, French and Spanish are offered at Wenatchee High School.

Social studies classes are offered to help the student better meet the problems of adult living. He should gain through experiences which will develop in him an understanding and appreciation of the principles of democratic living.

Wenatchee High School has a large and ever expanding vocational program. The vocational department includes classes in a variety of subjects, all of which help to prepare the student for future vocations.

Subjects included this year were: three semesters of bookkeeping, four semesters of typing, a class in use and operation of business machines, business English, business law, and the work experience and distributive education courses.

Additional vocational courses were the home economics courses, wood shop and electricity courses, agriculture, power mechanics, and machine shop.

This year several classes were added to the vocational curriculum. These included clothing technician course and a food handler course. The students in these courses gained more first-hand knowledge about their planned careers.

Mr. David Mahrt, Bookkeeping, Business Law.
Miss Charlene Roberts, Home Economics, Pep Board Advisor.

Miss Marlene Bauer, Bookkeeping, Office Procedures, Typing, Work Experience.
Richard Cargill, Agriculture, Power Mechanics.

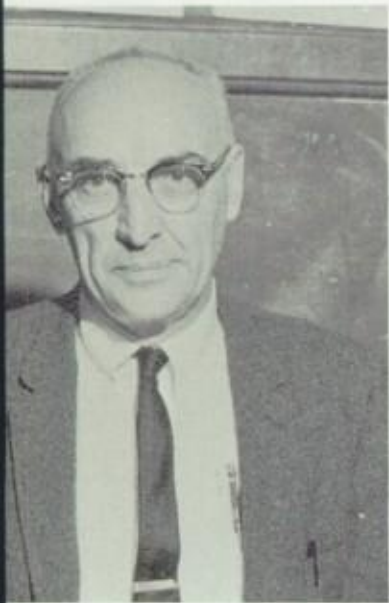

Mr. Bruce Graham, Machine Shop.
Mr. George Roberts, Agriculture Mechanics, F.F.A. Advisor.

Alice Roths, Typing, Shorthand, Girls' Tennis Coach.

Mr. Vern Christensen, Electricity and Electronics, Vocational Work Experience, A.V.A. Dept., P.A. Crew.

Mr. Haring, Mechanical Drawing, Engineer Drawing, Architectural Drawing.
Miss Veronne Ritt, Shorthand, Typing, Business English.

Mr. Earl Lehman, Woodshop.

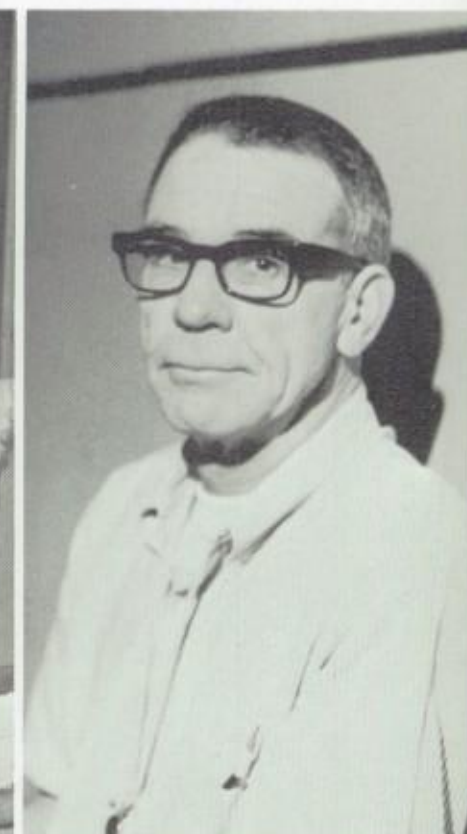

The objectives of special education were to aid individual students in acquiring skills and attitudes which would help their adjustment to society as a whole and to help students obtain a position within the community. The students within the program were often included because their needs were inadequately filled with the regular program. The course stressed vocational opportunities, although offerings included everything from elementary anatomy to a study of constitutional principles.

the 1st grade teacher looked down on us all and pounded it into our heads that although we were young and had incoherent minds some day we would understand this was to be our home away from home.
home — to some it is a place of refuge of acceptance of affection—
a place to be yourself and to be happy.
in grade school all I thought of was recess and someplace to wear my halloween costume.
it wasn't my home —
home was with mother.
each morning
as we waited for the bus to junior high girls checked their hair and hoped the slight touch of perfume was subtle yet powerful enough to attract that boy for a Friday night movie.

 and one boy here
 and one boy there would comb each wisp into place hoping the girls wouldn't see.
 but still each day
 I left quite quickly to go home.
 at home
 the phone might be ringing.
 the strange feeling of excitement as I entered the enormous doors —
 "oh you're in high school my haven't you grown" no — not really somehow as I think back to that very first lecture I realize that it takes three years of final procedure for a "home away from the same" to appear.

While watching a slim glittering baton twirl against the dark night and return to the waiting hand of a pretty majorette, one is aware of the hours of time and energy spent to create the precision act.

The four majorettes rehearsed for performances during sixth period and other extra hours this year. Arlene's Studio of Dance and Baton aided the girls in smoothing over rough areas of their routines.

Besides baton twirling, the majorettes experimented with twirling fire at homecoming. New uniforms, to be designed by Sue Byquist, were planned by the majorettes for the basketball season.

Cheerleaders

The Wenatchee High School cheerleaders participated in many activities and assemblies this year.

During the summer the cheerleaders attended a cheerleading camp, where they were awarded the Spirit Stick for being extra-spirited. When school started, the cheerleaders led pep assemblies and performed at games.

All of the cheerleaders — varsity, junior varsity, and Boys' Club cheerleaders — were selected not only on appearance, pep, and group co-ordination, but also on personality, leadership, and originality.

The Boys' Club cheerleaders hope that practice will make perfect.

Boys' Club Cheerleaders: Roger Bumps, Bob McAnally, Bill Richards, Tom Speidel.

The Panthers had a successful season this year. The team finished the season in a three-way tie for third place in the Basin Big Eight League, with a seven-win, three-loss record.

The Panthers were considered the "hardest hitting team in the league," according to Coach Lee Bofto.

Each week the pep clubs made the Panther-of-the-Week award. The player that won the award was voted the best player for the game the previous week. The team members voted among themselves for the member deserving the award. Panthers-of-the-Week for this year were: Rick Hively, Gary Isaacson, Norm Jones, Larry Worley, Mike Johnson, Steve Sizemore, Mike Goodman, the entire team for the Walla Walla game, and the senior players for the Richland game.

Although the cross country team didn't score too well at their meets this year, the team had a larger membership of enthusiastic runners.

Each team member ran several miles a day during practice, trying to cut down on his running time. By the end of the season, endurance was built up to a peak. Each boy averaged ten miles a day by the end of the season. Some team members accumulated as much as two hundred miles of running during practice sessions.

Races during meets were a minimum of one and one-half miles to a maximum of three miles in length. Winning teams are the ones which accumulate the least number of points.

"The Greatest Panther Show on Earth" began with challenging competition for the Spirit Cup during Spirit Week. The winners were chosen according to per cent participation in the homerooms on each day. Decorations, posters, and general spirit also helped the homerooms in competition.

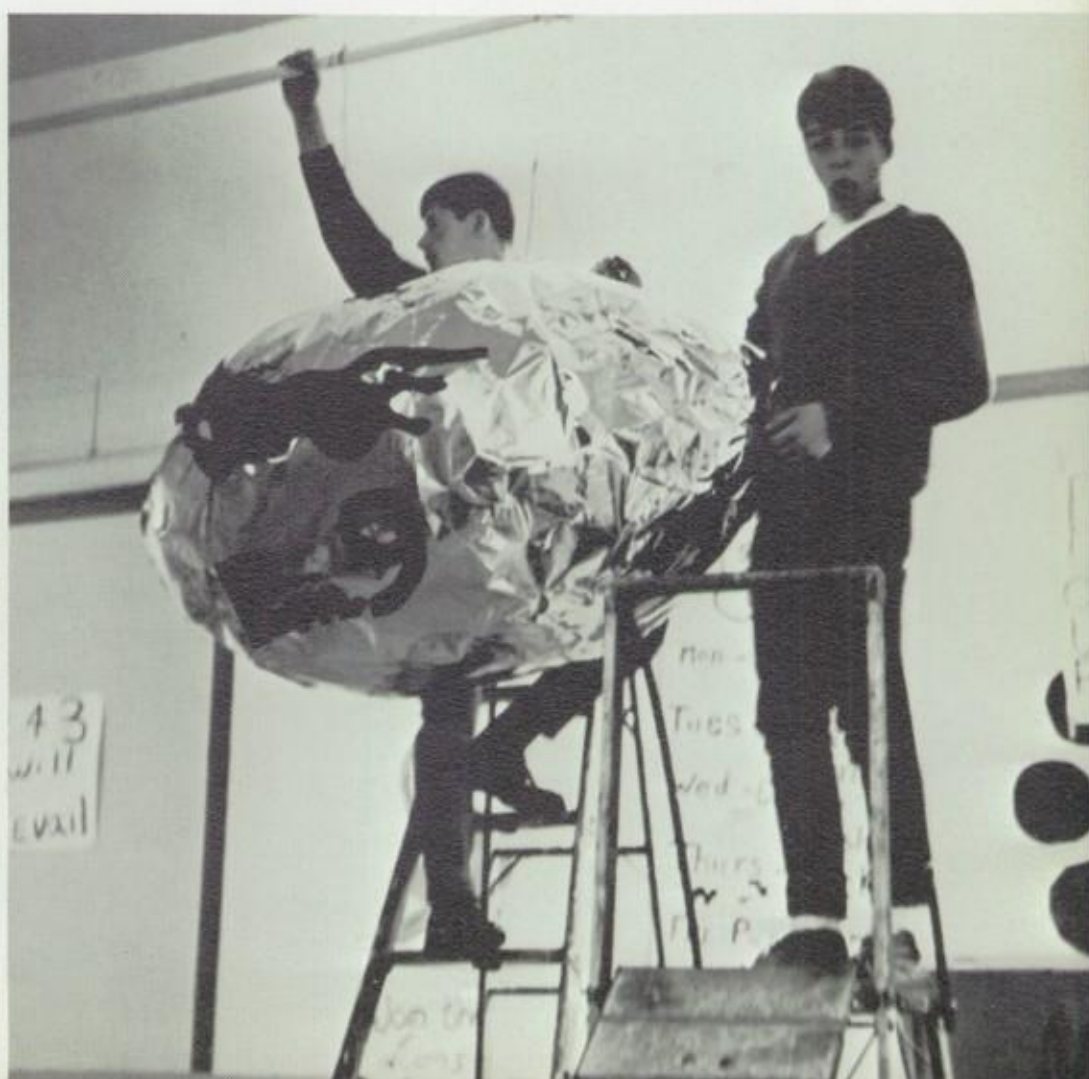

Room 226, the winner of the Spirit Cup, held a funeral for the opposing team — the Kennewick Lions.

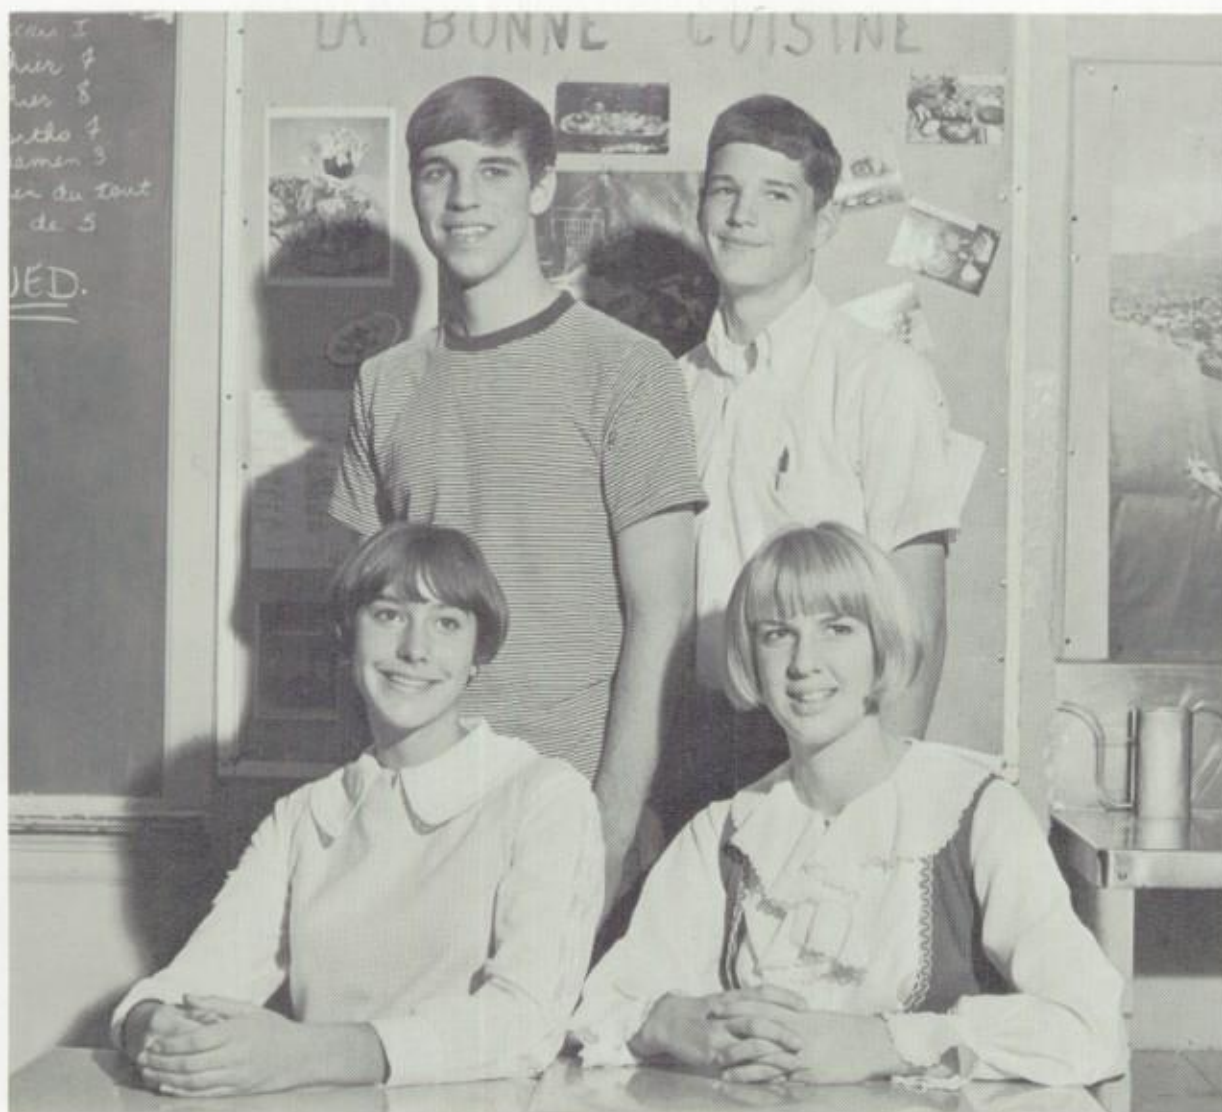

The traditional serpentine had to be cancelled, due to inclement weather. Normally held in the Apple Bowl, the pep assembly was moved to the gym. Half-time activities, including formation marching and special circus music by the Apple-ettes Drill Team, the majorettes and the Golden Apple Marching Band, were postponed until the following week due to the muddy conditions of the field.

Despite the rain, that night the Panthers climaxed the "Show" with a muddy but glorious victory over the Kennewick Lions.

Students actively participated in Spirit Week, hanging posters and decorating homerooms, as shown here by Jerry Riley and Dave Pugh.

Fall Officers: President Mike Gnagy, Vice President Lany Kliewer, Treasurer Lori Leedy, Secretary Janet Shamberger.

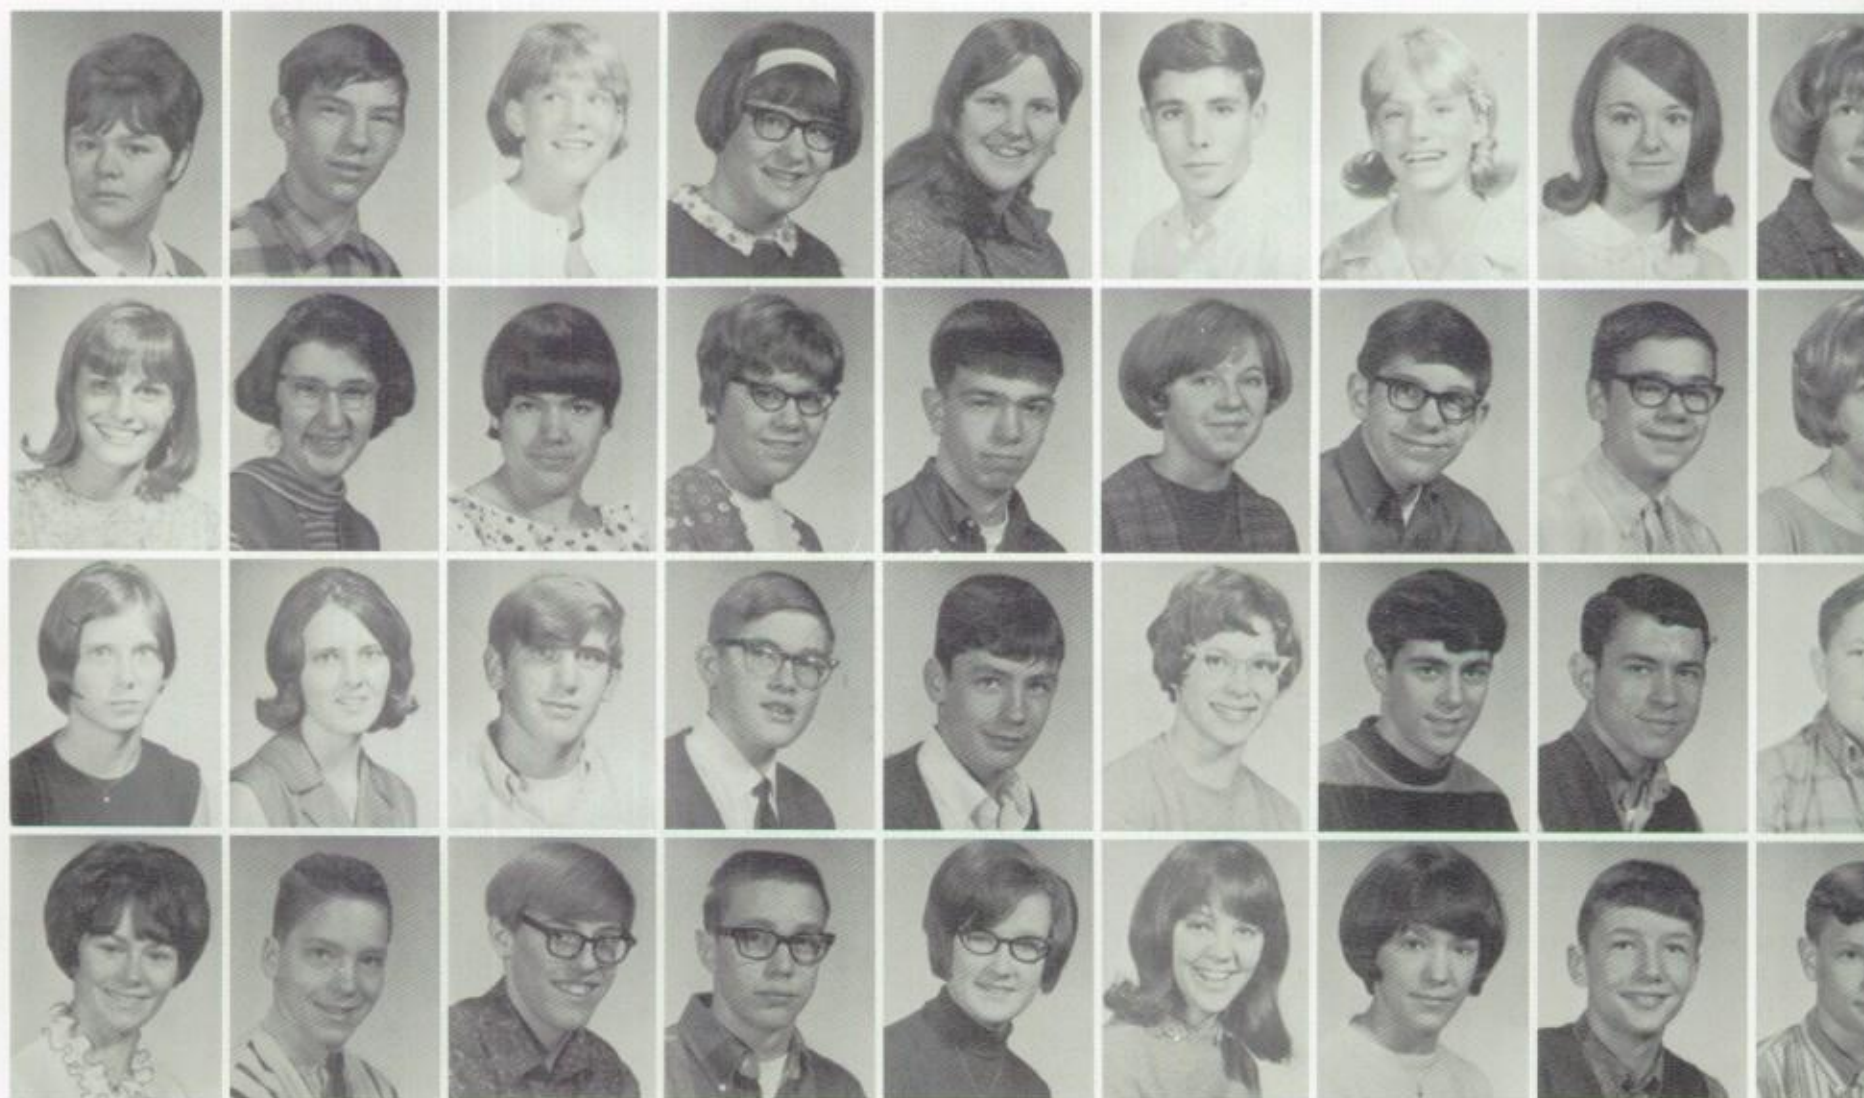

"From a little spark may burst a mighty flame." (Dante) A tiny acorn turns, one day, into a magnificent oak tree. A helpless baby grows to be the great Abe Lincoln. The Wright brothers never dreamed possible such creations as the Gemini and Appollo rockets. For greatness is not born — it is made.

A mighty Senior was once an embryonic sophomore . . .

This year the sophomore class sponsored a popcorn ball sale, a dance, and several other money-making projects. The ever-present pop bottle drive continued throughout the year. All of the projects will help promote the Junior Prom in 1969.

Until then, the sophomores, with the promise of maturity, must wait . . . wait . . . wait . . .

The Golden Apple Band performed at the first home football game and for Commencement in the Spring. They also provided musical entertainment at pep assemblies, basketball games, music festivals and parades. The Golden Apple Band also performed three concerts during the year. Aside from the many performances at this school, they exchanged concert trips with bands from other schools.

A highlight of the year was performing with Paul Tanner, Hollywood Studio's trombone artist.

From the Golden Apple Band a stage band was organized. Going under the name of Chancellors II they provided musical entertainment for many activities.

Golden Apple Wind Ensemble

Judy Eustace and Keith Gillin flash happy faces after a concert.

The Golden Apple Wind Ensemble, newly formed this year, made its W.H.S. debut at the Veteran's Day Assembly and its public debut in a concert the following week. The group performed the finest musical literature and has adapted to many different styles of music. Golden Apple Wind Ensemble performed several concerts providing many different musical tastes. The group performed at concerts, music festivals and as a highlight, performed at the Washington State Apple Blossom Queen's selection.

During the year new gold blazers were purchased for the group. Under fine direction the Wind Ensemble has had a most successful year.

Chancellors

The Chancellors was a sixteen piece stage band that performed jazz music. They performed at concerts, assemblies, and at the Queen's selection, providing excellent musical entertainment. This was a highly selective group for boys.

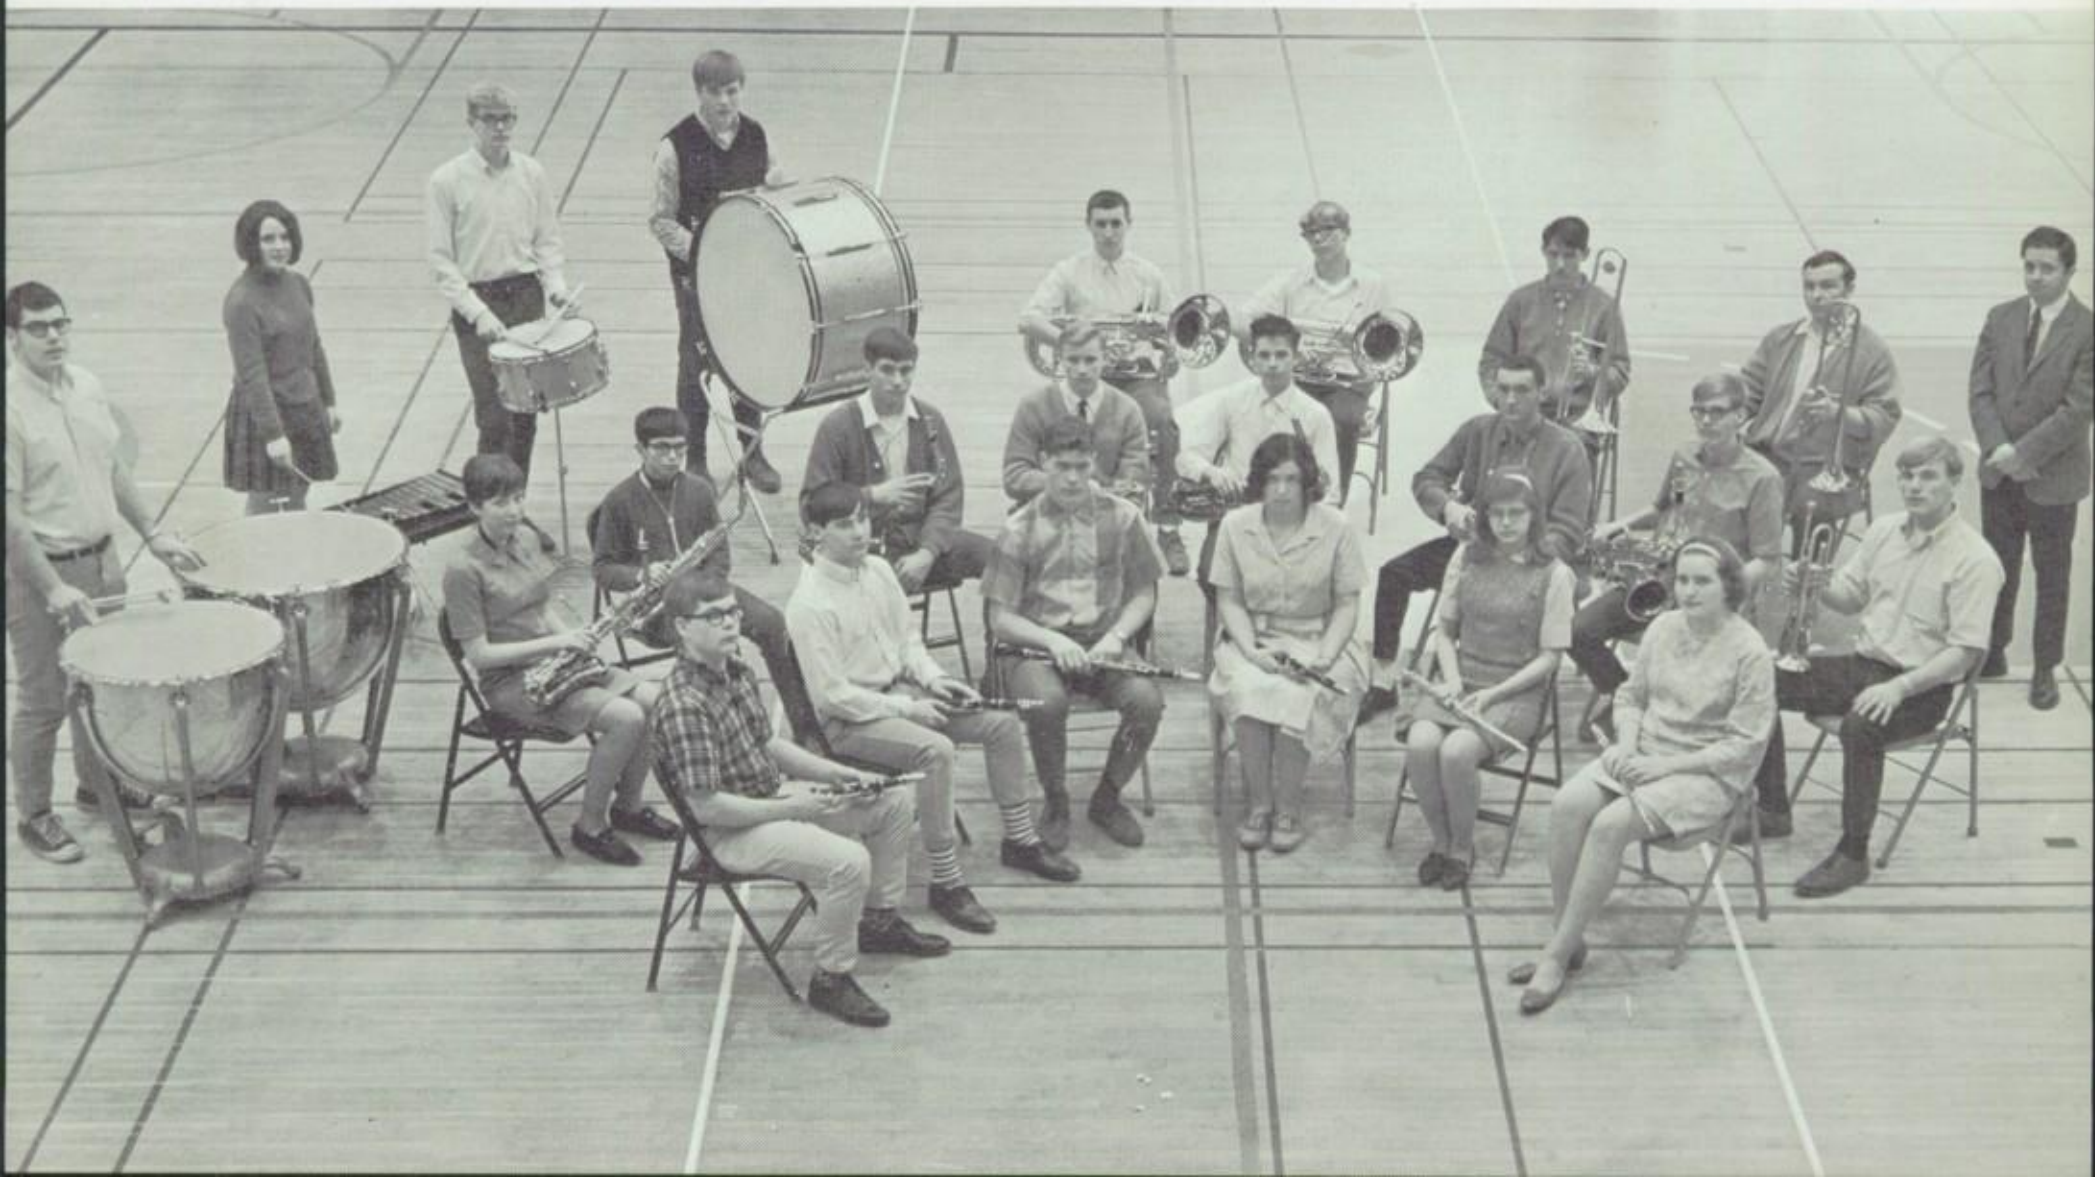

Preparatory Band was composed of students who were in training for Golden Apple Band and Wind Ensemble.

Bel Canto Singers work for the pitch given by Mr. Jones.

Schola Cantorum members listen eagerly to Mr. Jones.

Anyone who liked to sing "just for fun" was welcome to join the Boys' Glee or the Girls' Glee. This beginning class was also an excellent choice for training for Schola Cantorum, as it offered the necessary practice in learning the fundamentals of music and singing.

Those eligible for Schola Cantorum received even more valuable experience, and for some a chance to join Chorale Society. This year the choir added a new look with purple ascots and matching skirts.

Under the direction of Mr. Jones the three choirs performed for the three yearly concerts—including the Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts.

With over fifty members, Chorale Society was the largest vocal choir in the music department. This group was devoted to the finest performance possible in choral music. Under the direction of Mr. Ron Jones, the society participated in many concerts and programs during the year. They presented much of the great musical literature of the past and present, including all styles of music except pop music.

The Bel Canto Singers were a smaller group. They performed a wide variety of music, which included sacred, secular, and pop presentations. A considerable amount of performing was done in the community.

There were two purposes of Orchestra. One was to give the students a chance to perform in orchestra settings and learn from experience the proper procedure for rehearsal and performing. The second purpose was to provide music in the school and community. In both ways the student benefited profitably.

Orchestra participated in the three annual concerts. They invited an out of town group, Sedro-Woolley, in the spring. Orchestra planned to participate in the all-city orchestra concert. This included grade school and junior high groups.

Miss Pederson leads the Orchestra through a beautiful movement at the Christmas Concert.

"You—Solomon Bozo. You blessed, blessed good samaritan," cried Marilyn MacPhail in her portrayal in Everybody Loves Opal.

Thespian Advisors: Mr. Robert McAllister, Mrs. Pauline Peterson, Mr. Lyle Schwarz, Mr. Rod Molzahn.

Brad, played by Rick Doggett, explains to Dennis Tiffany, that "If you got friends in the world nothing bad can happen to you and that's the truth."

Camille Taylor as Tituba in The Crucible, screamed "I don't compact with no Devil!" as she was about to be condemned of witchcraft by Reverend John Hale, played by Rick Doggett, while Abbey Williams, played by Casandra Firman, looks on.

Cyrano, played by Mike Tucker, delirious, cries out "Let no one help me —no one!—only the tree . . ."

Christian, played by Jon Wooten, said "Quick! my glove—I'll throw it in his face," as he grabbed the cut-purse, played by Ben Fritz, who was about to steal his money in Cyrano de Bergerac.

Judge Danforth, played by Mike Tucker, sentenced, "Has the devil dried up any tear of pity in you? Take her out!" as Elizabeth Proctor, played by Lova Delabarre, was convicted of witchcraft in The Crucible.

As the priest, played by Jim Clark, presented the letter, Roxanne, played by Connie Taber, read "You and Christian will be married privately in your house," while Christian, played by Jon Wooten, looks on and Raganeau, played by Clifford Webster, holds the lantern.

Thespians

Cyrano, played by Mike Tucker, listens to Roxanne, played by Connie Taber, as she said "Then let the leaves fall. Tell me now the court news—my gazette!"

Besides the many gains Debate Club offers as a whole to the school, many personal rewards are obtained. There are many opportunities for improvement in self control, poise and better expression of ideas.

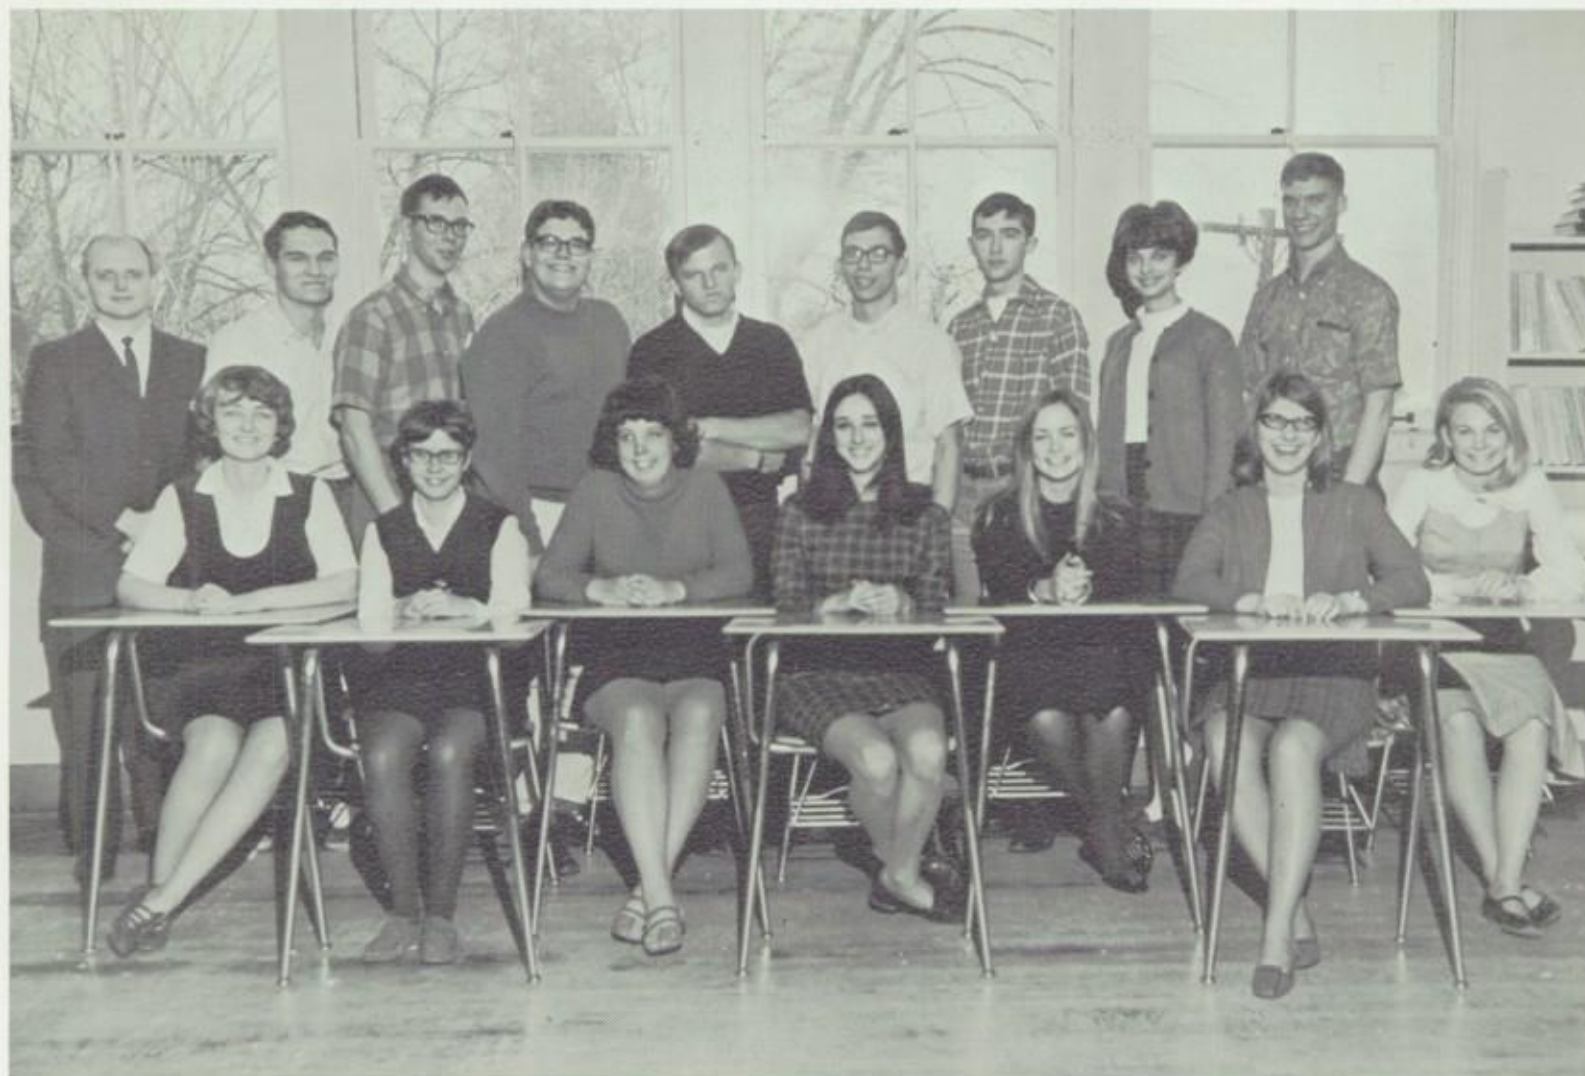

The club participated in four college-sponsored tournaments at Ellensburg, Gonzaga, University of Washington and University of Puget Sound.

Debaters attended the National Forensic League District Tournament at Yakima and the North Central Washington District Tournament.

During the year the members gave some thirty-five Christmas seal talks to adult groups on behalf of the Chelan Tuberculosis League. They also gave talks promoting measles vaccine during the fall.

M.U.N. delegates prepare their presentations for their trip to C.W.S.C.

Delegates representing most of the countries of the world gathered to discuss problems affecting the world and its people. Discussing and preparing recommendations for problems in the world today is the purpose of the United Nations.

International Relations Club was established to study the workings of the U.N. and to represent W.H.S. at the Model United Nations conference held at Ellensburg each year. The club chose to represent Portugal, Albania, and Australia at the conference. This year the club attended one M.U.N. session at Ellensburg and another was planned at Vancouver, B.C.

Literary Magazine

Adding to the general enjoyment of the student body, the Literary Magazine was published by students selected from the members of the advanced creative writing class. The magazine contained poetry, fiction, and essays chosen from those submitted by the student body. The purpose was to stimulate creativity among the students.

Wa Wa is a unique class of its own. Highlights included tedious planning, inventories, an annual trip to Seattle at the University of Washington, which broadened the students' views on yearbook production, hectic picture planning, and of course, faithful deadlines. These activities outwardly outlined Wa Wa.

This year the theme Imagery was reflected in the school life of students throughout the annual.

Wa Wa members are chosen for their interest in yearbook production and their capability. They may be selected from any class.

Art Club

Above: Carolyn Shank works busily at painting a poster. Right: Mrs. Kirkpatrick observes her students as they work on a silk screen print advertising a concert.

To all Wenatchee High School students interested in art, the Art Club offers a creative outlet. The group's activities include such projects as designing hall posters for high school activities, making posters for band concerts, and for other functions in Wenatchee.

This year the club held its third annual Christmas art auction. Students could buy original art drawings or paintings for Christmas presents.

The Art Club also helped prepare sets for the plays and did lettering for any activity which requested it. All of these activities made it a busy, interesting year for the Art Club.

French Club

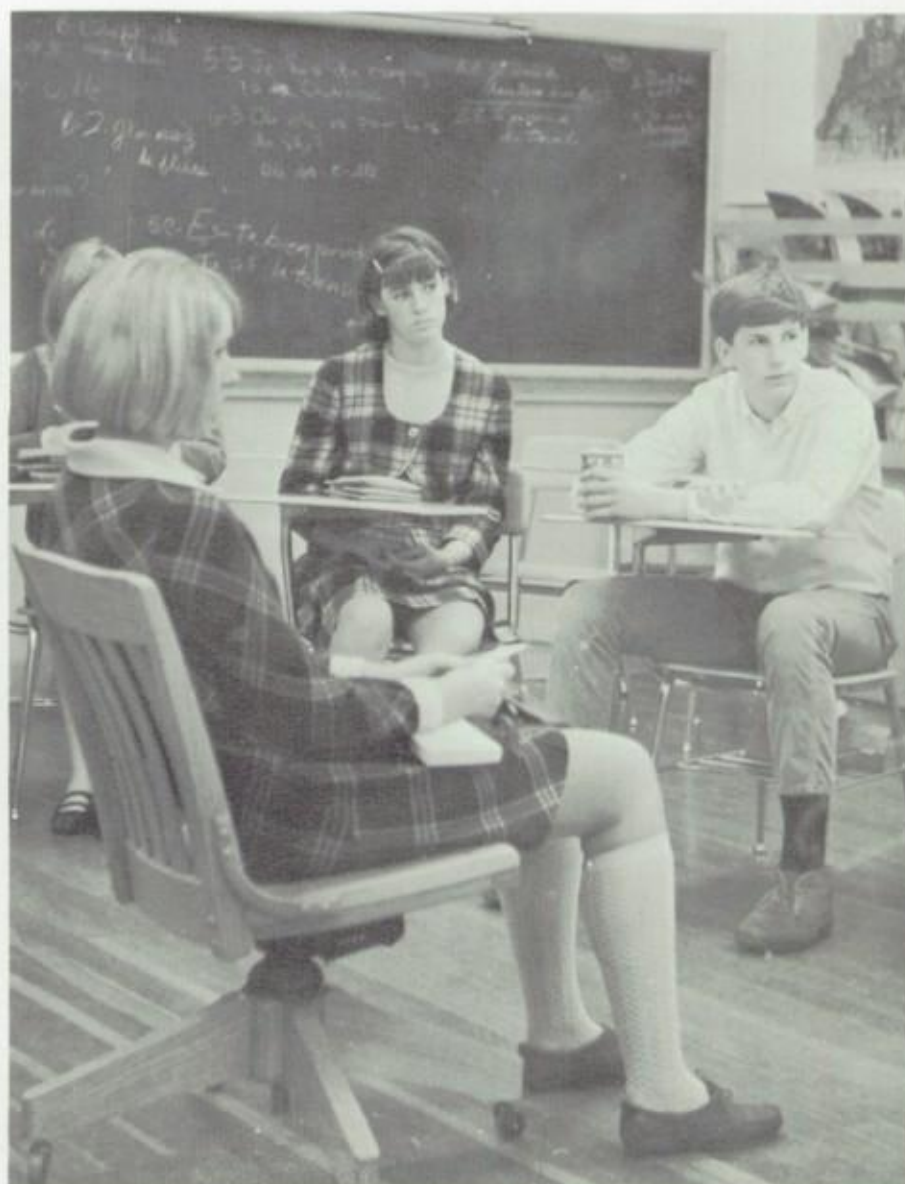

The members of French Club met every other Tuesday evening. This year the club planned a spring style show to raise money. Their goal was to send students to Quebec for a few days to live with French-speaking families.

On November 16, the group, in conjunction with German and Spanish Clubs, helped put on a Foreign Language Banquet, with an assortment of French preparations—boeuf bourguignon coquilles St. Jacques, Des patisseries, des haricots verts, des ligumes, and des gateaux.

The annual winter carnival, with skiing, inner tubing, and lots of food, was held at Squilchuck.

Following annual custom, the group sang Christmas carols to hospital patients and in the neighborhoods around Wenatchee High School—in French, of course.

French Club members listen attentively to the minutes from the last meeting.

The bright, romantic lore of ancient Mexico was studied by the Spanish Club this year.

Along with the other foreign language clubs, Spanish Club helped plan and participated in the Foreign Language Banquet. The members brought the spicy, delicious foods typical of Mexico.

In the future, the club hopes to hold a fiesta which will include the Spanish clubs of other schools. Plans for the event were started this year.

Miss Pederson, advisor of German Club, said that the purpose of German Club "is to do things relating to the culture and history of Germany" which there isn't time to explore in class.

At their different meetings, the club members participated in German dancing and singing. There were guest speakers talking on Germany. Along with French and Spanish Clubs, German Club participated in the Foreign Language Banquet, bringing samples of typical German foods.

The Panther wrestlers had a successful year, winning twelve of their 23 matches and sending two wrestlers, Mike Moore and Rick Hively, to state competition. Mike captured the 148-pound class title as state champion, the second in the thirteen-year history of W.H.S. wrestling.

Wrestling is a contest of skill and endurance. Weight classes are maintained to ensure equality of competition. The wrestlers are judged on skill and the techniques used in their competition for points.

Basketball

The W.H.S. basketball team shot for a berth in the state playoffs, and almost succeeded. They went as far as a district play-off with Richland, but lost the game 66-54.

The team was plagued by illness at the beginning of the year, but they were successful in winning several of those games. Games were extremely varied, but all were fast and exciting. The competition was strong with Basin Big Eight teams and with the other league teams.

Ski Club

A real "hit" this year at WHS was the newest club addition, the Ski Club. Now students can support their school and at the same time ski for fun. It has been an appealing choice for many students, with a club membership of about fifty. They also sponsored a trip to the Big Mountain at Whitefish, Montana.

Class of '69

The junior, rejoicing in his new-found prestige, is excited about his chance to rank someone else as he was ranked. And so the wheel keeps turning.

The juniors' most important responsibility — the Junior Prom — was financed by a caramel apple sale, an after-game dance, and other money-making projects.

The planning for the prom began early. Class advisor Mr. May said that the representatives all had excellent participation and were very enthusiastic. The juniors chose the theme from these choices: "Alice in Wonderland," "San Francisco Night," "Cinderella Ball," and "Step into my Dreams."

The ball, held in April, was a fitting tribute to the seniors.

Girls' Club Cabinet

The purpose of Girls' Club and of Girls' Club Cabinet was primarily to promote friendship between WHS girls. The cabinet coordinated many service committees. These included organizing office helpers, conducting Girl of the Month voting, recruiting ushers and girl guides for open house, orientation, and evening school functions, and sponsoring a Big Sister program for new girls at WHS. Committees were also established to care for the sick room and the Girls' Club room.

The Fashion Board, originated by the cabinet, worked with the faculty in deciding on reasonable guidelines for clothing worn in school.

The high-stepping Apple-Ettes Drill Team added something new to their precision routines this year. After two of the Apple-Ettes returned from a summer drill team camp, they inspired the drill team to try precision dancing such as can-can steps and dance movements.

They attended a West Coast Drill Team Conference at Everett, participated in a fall workshop at Yaki-ma and entered the Lilac Festival at Spokane.

Some of their money making projects included sell-ing football season tickets, sponsoring an after game dance and putting on their annual Varsity Ball. The girls also worked in the concession stand at Little League Field last summer.

When not busy working, the group treated them-selves to a few "fun" sessions. A kidnap breakfast, slumber party, Christmas party and spring coffee hour were highlights.

Pam Stojowski, Mrs. Hauck, Advisor, and Diane Savenko stop to reminisce over past events.

Apple-Ettes work long hours to prepare for their annual Varsity Ball.

Science Club

Whether peering through a microscope at an infinitesimal cell or carefully observing a chemical reaction, Science Club members were always pursuing a project of interest.

The 1967-1968 Science Club established an annual Science Seminar. The seminar's emphasis was on original research in the basic sciences. A perpetual plaque with the grand prize winner's name engraved on it will be kept at the school. Individual trophies were awarded in the five major fields of scientific pursuit.

The group also planned trips to the science departments of the University of Washington, Washington State University, and other places of scientific interest in the area.

A member of G.A.A. almost makes a basket for her team during a practice session for a future basketball game during a sports day.

G.A.A. was open to all girls interested in participating in sports. Both intramural and interscholastic competition were offered. The competing schools included Eastmont, Cashmere, Moses Lake, Wenatchee Valley College, Leavenworth, and Chelan.

The year started with soccer, and continued with volleyball, basketball, and gymnastics. Spring sports consisted of track and field, badminton, and softball.

The organization participated in various money-making projects to finance awards to girls who have participated in various games throughout the year.

D.E.C.A.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America were formed to provide high school students with an opportunity to work as retail clerks. The student had to find his own job and work there one period a day. Two other periods were spent in class learning the techniques of marketing and distribution.

Among their activities were helping with valley fruit promotion, participation in the State DECA Leadership Contest, planning spring banquets, and the production of the well-known "DECA Coloring Book."

Each member of DECA was required to make a display using the products which he worked with. The display window was in the east wing of the high school and contained displays ranging from clothing apparel to cameras and auto supplies.

Boys' Club

Boys' Club members examine plans for the victory cannon.

The many activities of Boys' Club aided in promoting school spirit and establishing school tradition.

This year's Boys' Club activities included sponsoring rooter bus trips for football and basketball games, presenting a dance featuring a "Battle of the Bands," building the successful Homecoming bonfire, and selling PAW sweat shirts. The main project for the year was planning and constructing a victory cannon for W.H.S.

At the end of the year, the Boy of the Year was awarded fifty dollars.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society promoted the standards of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Each member was selected on this basis.

The members met the four categories in the following ways. Each member was required to maintain a 3.3 cumulative grade average, to participate in other activities, to develop leadership, to maintain a high reference of character, and to serve the school and community through tutoring and the "Dollars for Scholars" drive.

Activities of Honor Society included compiling Honor Roll lists, an assembly honoring new members, formal inductions of members, presenting Teacher Appreciation Day, and the annual "Dollars for Scholars" drive. The members climaxed the year with their annual party presented by the juniors for the graduating seniors.

Future Farmers of America

F.F.A., or the Future Farmers of America, was organized for the benefit of the agriculture students. The purpose of F.F.A. was to develop cooperation and to promote leadership.

The activities of F.F.A. included judging agriculture contests, entering apple-growing contests, doing orchard work, and entering a public speaking contest.

Projectionists and Stage Crew

Maintained as a service group for the benefit of the W.H.S. Student Body, the Stage Crew provides the physical background for all school activities that use the stage in Main for their programs.

The group spent many hours building and arranging sets for plays presented during the year. Helping move, set up, and take down for musicals, concerts, and plays were all part of their activities.

Projectionists were responsible for setting up movies to show to various classes. They also set up the public address system which was used at assemblies. Many classes and assemblies ran much smoother thanks to the helpfulness of the projectionists.

What most students don't realize or at least appreciate is that there is always someone responsible for the background work. Without them, many plays, assemblies, and concerts would definitely be limited.

Apple-Ettes check to see if the wall drapings are complete.

Used by the Daily World as an advertisement for the Varsity Ball, this picture portrays the wide choice of dates that Jeff Lombard could have for the tolo dance.

Varsity Ball is Hawaiian Tolo

The Varsity Ball was traditionally held in honor of all varsity team members by the Apple-Ettes Drill Team. This year the Varsity Ball came closer to being a true tribute to each member of the varsity teams than ever before. A unique change was made—to a tolo dance.

Ideally, each boy was escorted to an exciting evening on a romantic Hawaiian island by an equally charming girl.

Under the theme "Nui Loa," meaning "The Most," the Hawaiian decorations made tantalizing surroundings. Adding musical grace to the evening again this year was the Glenn Isaacson Quartet. The main event of the evening was announcement of the royalty. Patty Holden, Pam Stojowski, and Jane Drake were crowned during intermission.

In promotion of the 4-day Apple Blossom Festival, the 1968 royal trio traveled the Pacific Northwest addressing personal invitations for the festival.

This year's twenty-five girls were first selected by the Student Council. Then, the student body voted for their choice of seven girls as worthy candidates.

The week prior to selection night was one of radio interviews, poses for official judging and numerous service club invitations.

Automatically, after the Queen and two Princesses were chosen, the seven runners-up became the seven royal maidens.

Thoughts on Graduation

We've grown up now.
 Eighteen years of security, supervision, school—scrambled and gone.
 No more cafeteria hamburgers, school buses, trying to beat your sisters to the bathroom five mornings a week.
 No more routine.
 In September, the end of a real home.
 We'll be visitors from now until a sometime marriage.

There won't be friends to stand with.
 We'll be individuals, alone.
 Forced into building our own reputation without family, not judged by friends, stripped of status cars and ranch houses.
 Only a suit case and a personality.

I'll see them at Christmas of course.
 Maybe for four days at Christmas.
 And then there'll be scattered weekends—sometimes an old friend or two.
 We won't crumble into Christmas card friends. Never.
 Some of them will be in Seattle, Spokane, Eugene, Ellensburg, and the faithfuls at Fifth Street U.
 We'll write. Even after the new friends.
 And after being established in our new lives.
 But it'll never be quite the same—ever.

Eric Elder and Kathleen O'Connor, winners at the Girls' Club "Dating Game" assembly, visit with Mrs. Rust at the school store.

The infants, in contrast to the giants, could only gaze in wonder at the phenomenal magnitude created before them. A powerful, massive, enormous giant, the senior class of 1968 sprawled its colossal shape through the eternal halls of W.H.S., conveying a true feeling of trivial dwarfishness to infant juniors and sophomores.

This year the senior class put up the unforgettable Christmas decorations on Main. They sold senior class buttons printed with the senior motto, "'68 Will Dominate," and earned close to $250. Many plans were considered for Senior Day. The seniors were in charge of the Senior Awards Assembly held in May as a fitting conclusion to the school year.

A.S.B. Officers

President John Stewart.

The A.S.B. officers, together with Student Council, completed a successful year. A Golden Card Club was established. The cards were available to all elderly citizens of the community, admitting them free of charge to all public W.H.S. activities. Plans were enacted for remodeling the outdoor courtyard located at the center of the school by planting shrubs and installing benches and walks. A sundial was purchased and installed on the memorial pedestal at the front of the school.

Student Council's duties included selection of the twenty-five Apple Blossom Festival Royalty candidates and finding workable solutions to problems facing the W.H.S. student body.

P.A.C.

P.A.C. members reminisce over their trip to Ingraham.

P.A.C., an advisory organization for Student Council, was established this year. The initials P.A.C. stood for Present, Advise and Coordinate. Its main function was to discuss problems brought up in Student Council so that lengthy debates could be cut down in council meetings.

P.A.C.'s accomplishments included traveling to Ingraham High School for an exchange visit to study student government, adopting a troop in Viet Nam, and meeting numerous times for discussion.

Bill Krakowka points out the litter problem as his mind wanders to the pictured distraction.

Mr. Taylor, advisor of Student Body activities.

Student Government was involved in such experiences as the Leadership Conference and Ingraham Exchange.

UGN Week, together with much hard work and fun, proved worthwhile, as the goal was triumphantly reached.

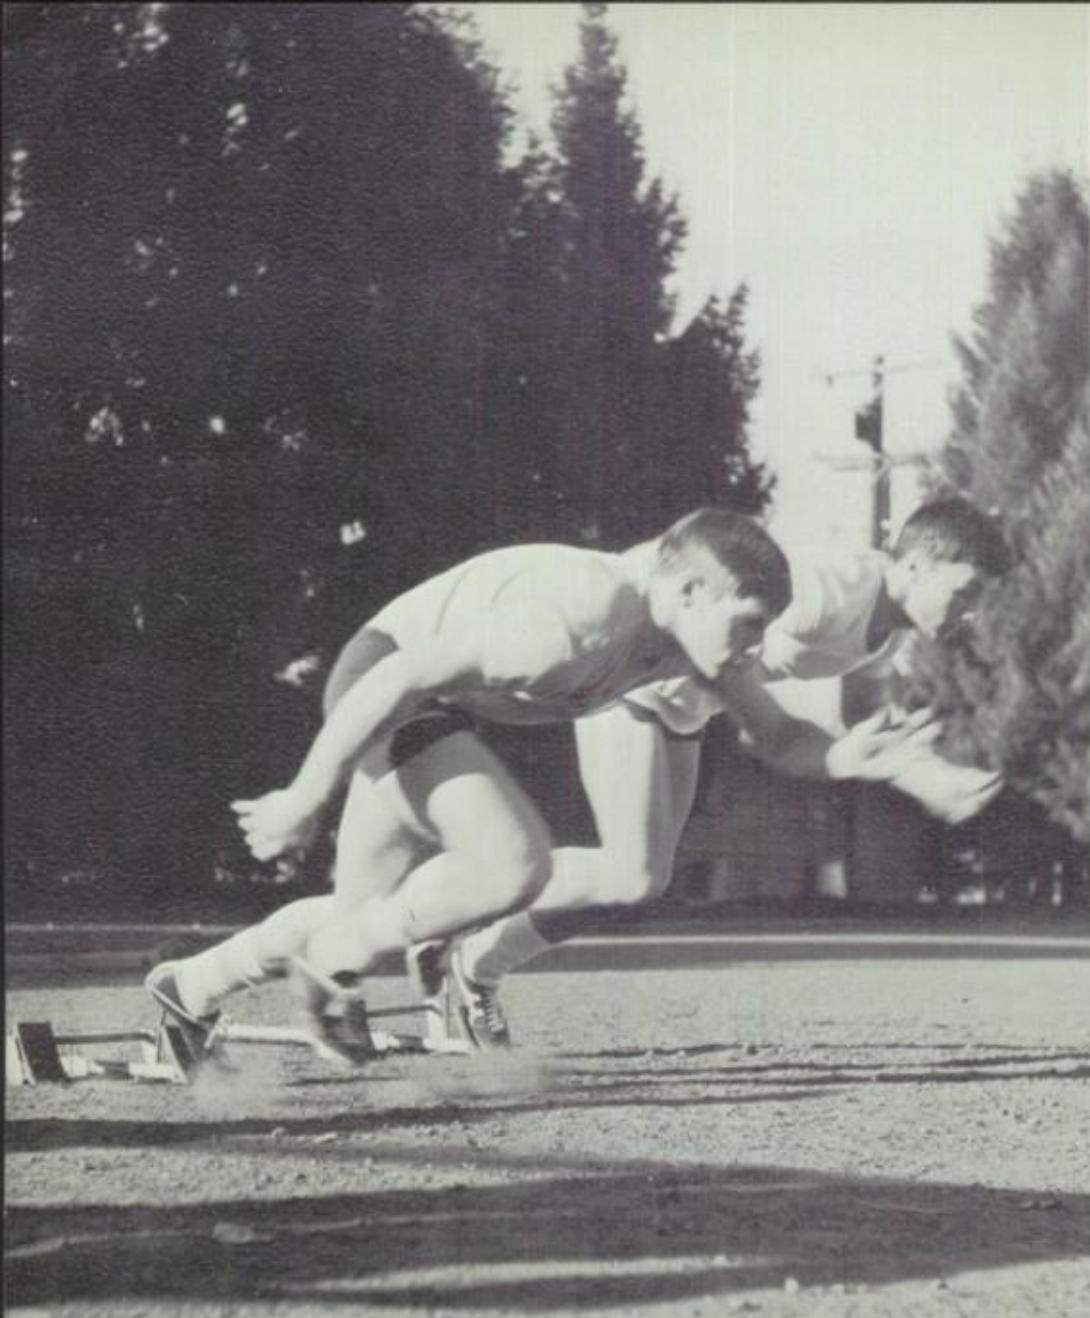

Homecoming week and the Christmas Basket Project brought memories of cordial rivalry between homerooms.

Accomplishments such as the Golden Card Club and P.A.C. were the main achievements.

Susie,

You're a real sweet, cute, sexy ect kid

I hope that I will see you up at the lake and we can get a Sun tan together!!

We also can go water skiing with ~~the~~ Kathy.

Be good and stay out of trouble.

Love ya much

Steve.

Alma Mater

We stand in acclaim
Through years of praise and fame;
Thy honor and loyalty
Be thine eternally.

Come sing loud our praises,
Let echo forever more;
All hail to Alma Mater
Hail to Wenatchee High.

I know you
 I didn't
 until I met you.
 I had I met you.
 your real cute so stay that way I get cuter if you can maybe I'll ask you out if you do! Ha! Ha!
 Your friend and mine.

see ya

Well, we almost big business. What do you think about that? I like it really been a great year haven't I? I'll never forget all our little private jokes (seemingly every spoken). Be sure and tell all your kids 10,000 kids about all the fun we had in P.E. while you're singing it to them OK?
 I'm really glad I got to know you because you're thoughtful my day many times. I hope we are always friends because I want to be that way!!
 I'm not going to tell you to be good cause I know you want to be careful OK?

[illegible]

Jessie,

Well, this year sure
has been a lot of fun, huh? It's even a treat gettin' to know you.
You are one of the few girls I've met that I very seldom see without a smile. As a matter of fact, you are a doll! Best of Luck. Have a fun summer & will see ya next year. Good Bye.

A friend always,

Love,
Kitty

Jessie,

It seems like about 8 million years before this year was over but I guess we're finally almost through. It's not ending near as good as it started, but I guess that was your doing. Too bad about that, but maybe we'll try it again this summer or next year. No matter what happens between you and me, I still want to visit you all the huck in the world wherever you go or whatever you do. See ya later and remember what I said about you and also about your leaf.

Love always,

Steve

Jessie,

Thanks for leaving me a whole page! I left you a whole page or two or 3...

Well it's been a pretty good yr. and I wish I would have had you in some of my classes this year. Well I remember you way back in ^{my} Little League Years also, boy you were Mike's neat little sister
You know that I was great - and you were right. Well, somewhat anyway. I hope I can come up to see you and Mike this summer especially you. Well,
I must sign off now because of lack of room so

Be Good*and* I love you Tom K.

Melinda Sue.

What can I say? How can I put it into mere words? It's been more than great and you've much more than cool. We've laughed and we've learned. You have made me a little more worldly and I have found a little more value to life thanks to you. I remember when ~~to~~ my folks were gone. You were a fantastic help to me. Please be careful in the years to come. You have done much to alter my course in life. I will never forget you for that. We love you.

Years from now when you read this, remember me, and the good times and the bad times.

I am so afraid of the future. But you make me stand a little taller and much more securely to the world. All I can say is, Thank You.

And remember: Always smile, because too many people depend upon ~~it~~ ~~you~~ to not.

I wish to you Wealth, Happiness and a long life with many memories. You are with me.

Respectfully,

Terry Heit

Susie,

Well my little chickadee, the year is finally at an end. There have been lots of things this year that have brightened my outlook on life and I'm proud to say that you are one of them. There have been many joys in your life this year and I hope there will be many more. Maybe even I might have the privilege. I'm sooo glad, I had you in one of my classes this year and I hope I will next year too. Until then or whenever I see you next. Au revoir.

Love,
Dave P.

Susie,
My nickname is Susie.
How about that?
It was so nice meeting you this year. Hope to see you in a lot more classes next year.

Melinda,

I'd really like to say something worthwhile and also something that you would appreciate. It's doubtful if I can do either. So maybe an expression of friendship would appropriate... may be an apology for the written things I've done. Nevertheless I do wish you all the happiness in the world.

Good luck dearheart,
Sue Hachel

P.S. climbing you on one of my scenic trips

Dear -
"I have" Alanna!

May I appreciate!
I'll end with that I hope I get you to P.E. I hope I want to remember those cool to know you I see with my foot on the page.
I've been thinking that you didn't want to be a member of the club. You made my feel for you. I had at really. It has the likes of you. I hope you know with climbing. I need on my re you really me? (the check)
Melinda

Susie,

Well, buddy! you old —. Another year at W.H.S. has hit the dust and your sophomore year is just about over. I think you guys have a real great class, too bad it will never surpass the year of "69." See, you have had some of the worst breaks a kid could ever have and I guess I didn't help out anything. One thing about you, though, you always come up smiling. You have a great personality and it doesn't need changing in the least. We have a lot of things in common and you're a real swell kid to know. We've had a lot of good times together and I hope there will be more to come. You and Thonda are just a bunch of buddies and I hope it stays that way. It is the best thing in the world to have a friend that understands the way you feel. Just think I didn't even know you before this year, and now that it is over, it seems like ages, because we have been through so many, and different kinds of experiences. I hope to see you this summer and may you have all the luck in the "69" world.

Love Ya, Bob

THE BEST
THERE EVER 157
IS GOING TO BE!

Suzie,

I'm sure glad we got to be friends this year because you're really sweet and we've had fun. Next year I hope we're in even more classes together so we can have a bunch of fun. I hope to see ya this summer. Best of luck and be good.

Love always,

Anna

Overseer

Suzie,
Thanks for helping me with my homework. You looked so cute in your grubs (H.A.), hoped so sweet the juice can. Best wishes, Bill Crandall
"P.S. = 10"

Sue,
Boy, you in Spanish class is something else. It's really been fun with you in Spanish. Never a dull moment. You and Jones always arguing and yelling at each other. It's been fun sitting by you at everything else. I have fun in the summer. Good luck and adieu
Jim

Suzie,

Well, I'll start off by saying that I wasn't mad at all the night you baby sat John for me. He needed it! That's something against you at the beginning of the year - but that's cause I didn't know. I guess I was jealous of all these Senior boys you had around you all of the time. But now - I guess you're OK. (Sometimes) That was censored you know!

I'll never been good friends with a Soph. but I really honestly hope we can be next year.

Don't pick dandelions - your hands get yellow.
Love Yael (69)

Dear Susie,
First of all
I'm mad at Tracy
for using that page!
Well gal, we've really been through a lot this year, good days and bad ones, laughter and tears, agony and ecstasy, but we both pulled a "big, neat, sophomore year" started out lousy, but turned into a real great experience.
It's going to be hard to leave this great year behind, but all ~~the~~ girls can do is reminisce, and try to make next year and will ever best W. H. S. has ever had and apple-ettes for me have. Dancing for you and apple-ettes for me are going to take up a lot of our time and energy next year, but aside from that I hope we remain a get to be better friends. Do you remember the big highlights of our "soph."
year = Homecoming with Ed Harris... my first date with Hack, Steve Kesterberg, Homecoming, Prom, John Crollard, just to name a few!
Sus, for me things like these will remain very close to my heart, always. Best of luck for ever and ever. God bless you, Sue, we'll see you in the summer to come,
Love always,
Shanda Proctor

Are

Where! Where! Another year has gone by and do you realize ~~we~~ ^{we} haven't figured it out? I'm amazed! I think you and Craig make a really great pair - he's good for you. What has your Mama and Dad^{er} said this one yet? - I think you guys oughta last! How about you have my great opinion & we'll tell you what I think of you.
You've run into some bad luck, but ^{you} think.
don't let it get you down - it happens to everybody - you know! You are about the coolest. Loving popdemon grief superior - well, one of us anyway? I really like ya! Are! I'm glad we didn't hit any bumps, right? Keep up the good work and ~~at~~ you and your crazy personality & will see this summer, OK? OK!

Your Always
Irene

Hi ya Check
Love
Chuck

you have a lot of great times and you know it.

OR MUCH DISCUSSION.

Stussie:

Well ole' St. Joe buddy its been great having you in school with me another year. After Apple Etti's in that can (remember) I felt like we were really close again!

Guess nothing can tear us apart, huh!? Better see you this summer K!? We hafta paint our name on the road all over again.
your really sweet n' fun
n' cute n' everything everyone else has already said! you crazy like me so dont you dare ever change. I'd be crazy all by myself!!

I wish you all the luck n' love in the world (with crazy like a great guy)

Much Love! Luck Always!

Kathy Michel

PS. Glad were still friends after those many times.
Same like now after we both gone our own way were closer still!
